

Bellcoff backs banning bare barmaids

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

MADISON — Mayor John Bellcoff said "isolated incidents" of topless and semi-topless waitressing in area taverns led to his pushing of an anti-obscenity ordinance.

Despite Bellcoff's insistence, the ordinance has not yet been passed by the City Council. It was instead tabled last Tuesday night until the next meeting, Feb. 21.

"You can't just walk in and say, 'You're under arrest.' You have to have something to back it up," Bellcoff said. While conducting another investigation, an unidentified outside agency discovered the incidents, he said. No arrests were made because of the lack of an applicable ordinance.

Bellcoff said that the problem is not widespread among establishments but represents only a few isolated incidents. He declined to name the establishments involved.

"I don't want the city of Madison to become another Brooklyn, Saugatog or Washington Park," Bellcoff said. "It won't be at least not as long as I'm mayor."

Bellcoff said the matter needed immediate attention to aid further investigation.

"I have a small town here with nine police officers," Bellcoff said. "This has to be taken to the people in these places, people who know what they are."

There are some people, including 2nd Ward Alderman Ron Grzywacz, who are not convinced of the urgency of the action. He is running for mayor against Bellcoff in April.

"The only thing I didn't like was this was brought in and we were expected to pass it," Grzywacz said. "We're not saying we want anything immoral going on; we just wanted a chance to read the ordinance."

Grzywacz, who has now read the ordinance, said he has a few problems with it.

"I think some things need to be changed," Grzywacz said. "One part talks about films and we've got two (cassette rental) movie places in town; we need to have a discussion on it."

In the introductory paragraphs of the ordinance its purpose is outlined as: "...to impose restrictions upon those activities which pander to gross sexuality in a manner that would detract from the neighborhood, adversely affect the property values, increase crime and violence and be repugnant to the morals of the community."

Grzywacz said he had checked with a dozen local taverns and found lewd behavior going on for some time.

"I'm not saying, on a routine basis, but it does happen," Grzywacz said.

He related an experience in which, while he was eating dinner in a Madison establishment, he said he saw a woman who had "stripped nude."

Because he said lewd activity has been ongoing, Grzywacz said he thinks Bellcoff has chosen unusual timing in "making an issue out of it."

"If it's been going on, why does this ordinance come up a month before the election?" Grzywacz asked.

Although the ordinance does address films, Bellcoff said he was more concerned with the lewd behavior of people.

"These aren't films we're talking about," Bellcoff said. "These are red-blooded people."

"It's not my business what people do in the privacy of their own homes. But when this kind of behavior goes on in a business operating with a license issued by this city, where it is affecting members of the general public, it becomes my business."

While he does not object to adopting obscenity ordinance, Grzywacz said, he asserted there already is one on the books.

Hearing officer thrills POWER, devastates IP

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Illinois Power is not happy.

The hearing officer of the Illinois Commerce Commission filed his recommendation on IP's proposed electric rate increase Thursday afternoon. It was not favorable to IP's case.

"The word we're using is devastating. Already this morning the stock has fallen two points," IP spokesman Scott Peterson said Friday. Peterson said IP is currently studying the nearly 300-page recommendation and will submit a response Feb. 23.

IP's request was for an 11 percent increase in November 1988 with annual increases tied to inflation until the full cost of the Clinton Power Plant is recovered. The company proposed a 10-year period.

The hearing officer recommended a one-time 3.11 percent increase. His recommendation included a disallowance of $712 million of the construction cost of Clinton from IP's total Clinton cost of $3.8 billion.

The hearing officer concluded that only 24 percent of the power produced at Clinton is used and useful to IP's ratepayers.

"I'm feeling very optimistic about the recommendation," said Helen Hawkins, president of the Quad-City based citizens group known as POWER (People Opposed to Wild Electric Rates).

"It looks like the ICC is beginning to listen to the people in the Granite City area, as well as all the areas IP serves."

"This recommendation shows that if people speak out someone will listen. In the last few years I think a lot of people gave up on that idea."

"The ICC told us Granite City had the largest crowd the commission ever saw at a hearing. Someone told me today we should feel proud that our efforts had some impact."

The increase it sought, IP said, is necessary in order for the company to remain financially healthy.

Woman killed Friday

GRANITE CITY — A Granite City woman was killed and her 32-year-old son was critically injured at 10:06 p.m. Friday, when struck by a car outside Granite City High School.

Elizabeth L. (Paretic) Mejaski, 64, of the 3200 block of Davis Avenue, was pronounced dead on arrival at the St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Her son, Paul D. Mejaski, also of Davis Avenue, was in guarded condition Saturday morning in the SEMC Critical Care Unit, a hospital spokesman said.

The two were walking across Nameoki Road at Jill Avenue from the high school when they were struck by a 1975 Ford operated by Vance R. Burns, 17, of the 2000 Edwardsville Road.

Circumstances of the accident remained under investigation Saturday, police said. There are traffic lights at the intersection.

Burns was driving south on Nameoki Road in the left lane when the two pedestrians crossed the road. The driver applied the car brakes, sliding into both victims, a report said.

Mrs. Mejaski was thrown about 60 feet and her son was found lying in the northbound lanes of Nameoki Road, according to police.

Venice drug raid 'shook them up'

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Recent early morning drug raids ended with the arrest of three people, but police said other suspects may be involved in the case.

"We're happy the way things went, but we didn't get some people we wanted," Police Chief Eugene Fasick said. "We still shook them up."

Agents from the Illinois State Police Department's Division of Criminal Investigation, two ISP troopers with K-9 dogs and Smith staged the simultaneous raids at 6:15 a.m. Feb. 2.

Their targets were two apartment units in the 500 block of the Russell Street Apartments on Klein Street. Although only three arrests were made, others in the community who may be involved in drug possession were sought.

"We'll get them, too," a DCI agent said Friday.

Four agents, plus a dog and handler, went to each targeted residence, the agent said.

One DCI team was required to force its way into one apartment, he said.

Two women and an East St. apartment, he said.

Perjak back on ballot

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Told she was still on the April ballot, 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak was elated.

"Round one for Sharon!" she said.

On Wednesday, the Electoral Board of Granite City overruled the objector's petition filed by Sandra Shaw. Also a candidate in the 4th Ward, Shaw asked that Perjak's name be removed from the ballot because the number of signatures on Perjak's filing petition exceeded the legal limit.

The minimum and maximum for 4th Ward petitions this year were 95 and 152. There were 160 signatures on Perjak's petition.

At a hearing Feb. 3, Shaw said she believed the law was there to be followed and that Perjak hadn't followed the law.

John Papa, Perjak's attorney, argued that, as established in prior cases, removal from the ballot was too severe a penalty.

The board agreed with Papa. Shaw said Friday she was considering requesting judicial review, but had not made a final decision.

"I would have to pay for the review," Shaw said. "It doesn't seem fair that the person who followed the law should have to pay, does it?"

Citing two prior court cases in its written decision, the board said the purpose of the maximum number of signatures is to establish an orderly election procedure and that "...the remedy of removing Perjak's name from the ballot is not rationally related to that legitimate state interest."

Removal of Perjak's name from the ballot for the reason that her nomination petitions contain more than the maximum number of signatures would violate Perjak's rights of due process.

Perjak said she never doubted she was going to win, but not, she said, because of her political connections.

"I had the law on my side," Perjak said. "But if I had not hired an attorney there's a good chance I would have been hung out to dry. I don't know if the board did all the investigation."

The electoral board was composed of Mayor Von Dee Cruse, City Clerk Bob Stevens and 2nd Ward Alderman Pat Schuman.

Granite City policemen revive stricken man

By Valerie Evenden

GRANITE CITY — Quick response by two police officers trained in cardiopulmonary resuscitation may have saved the life of a heart attack victim in City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Wilbert Engleke of the 3200 block of Country Place Lane was a patient Friday in the critical care unit at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. A hospital spokesman said he was "doing well," a city official said.

Police Capt. Glenn Wright and Detective Curt Walkenbach are being credited with responding quickly to a life-threatening situation.

Engleke was attending a meeting of the Granite City Planning Commission when he suffered the apparent heart attack.

The two officers saw him slump over. "He wasn't breathing and we couldn't detect any pulse," Wright said.

Using his walkie-talkie radio, one officer called for an ambulance while the other began to administer CPR.

Twice while resuscitation was being given, Engleke's pulse stopped and started again, Wright said.

A retired farmer and active civic leader, Engleke had made a presentation to the planning commission about a proposed golf course and residential area on 152 acres he owns.

When he finished speaking, he sat down on a bench and slumped over against his wife, Georgia Engleke, Wright said.

The two officers placed Wilbert Engleke flat on the bench and began CPR, stopping only when paramedics arrived and started other lifesaving techniques.

"I'm convinced the quick action of the two officers saved the life of Mr. Engleke," Lt. Col. Ron Selph, assistant police chief, said Friday. "All our officers are trained in CPR at the academy," he said.

The officers were at the zoning meeting in plain clothes at the request of the mayor because he said their were indications that opponents of the rezoning request for the former Washington Elementary School might lead to a disruption of the meeting.

"Thank goodness Glenn and Curt were there, and had the experience," Mayor Von Dee Cruse said Friday. "Our firefighters, our police officers and the paramedics and ambulance service are the finest in the State of Illinois."

The Washington School rezoning request had not been reached on the agenda when Engleke was stricken and the meeting was continued until 6 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 15, at the City Hall.

J. Craig Construction Inc. is requesting Washington School be changed from the present zoning of R-3 residential to M-1 warehouse/industrial.

CHECKING FOR ADDITIONAL LEAKS, an Illinois Power employee uses a device to check a gas meter struck by the car in the foreground.

Hit-and-run traffic accident leaves substation filled with natural gas

GRANITE CITY — Vast quantities of natural gas filling the Illinois Power substation at 17th Street and Grand Avenue resulted from a traffic accident occurring at about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday, police said.

A strong odor of gas in the vicinity of the substation was reported by a Granite City police officer at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday, with firefighters and police units responding.

A 1975 Mercury Cougar was found abandoned at the scene and it was determined the car had struck and broken off an outside natural gas meter and lines.

The vehicle also struck the brick substation building which houses control panels and other equipment.

Damage to the meter allowed large amounts of gas to escape and fill the substation interior with gas fumes.

Firefighters used a smoke ejector fan to clear the accumulated gas from the structure and Illinois Power employees then checked the equipment.

Police traced ownership of the vehicle and talked with Arthur L. Teller, 42, of the 1400 block of Madison Avenue.

An accident report concluded that Teller was driving south on Grand Avenue and apparently lost control of the car, hitting the substation and breaking off the outside gas meter and lines.

The driver apparently left the area on foot, abandoning the car, which could not be driven.

Teller was charged with failure to give information upon striking property, (leaving the scene of an accident) and driving while his license was suspended. He is scheduled to appear for a March 17 hearing in the Granite City court.

19 charges follow fight

MADISON — A disturbance and fight involving a large group of people brought police response from Venice and Granite City to assist Madison officers at 3:15 a.m. Feb. 4 at Ralph and Charlie's Steak House in the 1400 block of Fourth Street.

Police reaction initially focused on Richard Lee Niehaus, 28, of the 4000 block of Division Street, Puntown Beach, who eventually was booked at the Madison police station on 11 charges, including six counts of battery.

Two other Niehaus family members also were arrested. Employees of the lounge were attempting to separate two customers who were arguing. Off-duty Patrolman Mike Murgie of Granite City was walking to the restaurant side of the lounge.

He saw the employees were having a problem, but did not interfere and was watching what was occurring when Niehaus allegedly came toward him and struck him in the face, Murgie said.

Rena Lynn Niehaus, 30, of the Division Street address, Richard's wife, also lunged toward Murgie and struck him in the face several times and attempted to kick him in the groin, Murgie alleged.

Rena Niehaus was taken by Venice police to the Madison station and booked on a state complaint of battery.

Richard Niehaus was being held by several people when Madison officers arrived and were advised by Murgie of the attack. The off-duty officer's nose was red and swollen and his face was scratched, a report said.

As Granite City and Venice officers responded to the scene separate fights appeared to be taking place.

Efforts were made to calm Niehaus and others in the building by pushing him into a rear area of the restaurant away from the crowd; Richard Niehaus then struggled with police in the rear banquet room and several items were knocked over, reports said.

He was removed through a rear kitchen door and taken to Madison police headquarters in a Granite City squad car. In the police vehicle, he hit and kicked at the windows, officers alleged.

Christopher Allen Niehaus, 23, of the 1100 block of McCambridge Avenue, Madison, allegedly tried to interfere with the arrest and pushed a Madison officer.

Despite being warned, he continued to interfere outside the lounge before being arrested and booked on seven charges, it was contended.

The melee began when Jim L. Hillmer, an employee, was trying to step between two arguing customers, he said. Christopher Niehaus reportedly grabbed and pulled one of Hillmer's arms and Richard Niehaus allegedly bit Hillmer on the left forearm.

Marks were visible and the skin was broken in several places in the area of the bite, police said.

Three other employees were hurt in the disturbance, including Durwin A. Peterson who alleged being struck with a fist in the upper chest by Christopher Niehaus and being elbowed in the left eye by Richard Niehaus.

Employee John J. Kline alleged being struck in the face by Richard Niehaus and Dennis W. Russell said he was flung backward by Richard Niehaus and traveled through the air into a soft drink machine.

Property damage at the lounge included a $200 lamp, an amplifier valued at $200 and a chair worth $37.

In addition to six counts of battery, Richard Niehaus was charged with mob action, two counts of resisting arrest, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct. He posted $1,118 court bail and was released at 4:45 p.m. that day, pending a March 10 court appearance in Granite City.

Christopher Niehaus was charged with obstructing a police officer, three counts of battery, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and mob action. He posted $864 bail and was released pending a March 10 court appearance.

Rena Niehaus posted $102 bail and was released at 4:20 a.m. to appear in the Granite City court on March 10.

Woman chased, charged

Jonne Sue Zeffoff, 29, of the 2500 block of Parkway Drive, was arrested Jan. 29 on Maryville Road near Illinois 162 and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, improper lane usage, and fleeing and attempting to elude police. Police reported the car had swerved into the path of an oncoming patrol car on East 23rd Street near Kate Street.

The patrol car U-turned and pulled over Zeffoff's car, but as the officer walked toward the stopped car it was allegedly driven away at a high speed. The policeman then returned to the patrol car, followed Zeffoff and made the arrest on Maryville Road.

King Bridge to open, Poplar Street close

By Ed Gurney
Staff affiliate

COLLINSVILLE — With rehabilitation of the Martin Luther King Bridge winding down, work is scheduled to begin about March 1 on the first phase of renovation of the Poplar Street Bridge complex.

The good news for the 110,000 motorists who use the Poplar Street Bridge daily is that no ramps or roadways will be closed until the Martin Luther King Bridge reopens sometime between May 15 and June 15.

The Illinois Department of Transportation held a press conference in Collinsville on Tuesday to explain plans for the bridge improvements.

District Engineer Dale Klohr said it is hoped motorists will slow down to look and cause more delays on the already congested bridge complex.

"Between now and the time the King bridge opens, there will be minimal impact crossing the Poplar Street Bridge," Klohr said.

The first phase of work on the Poplar Street Bridge will involve the eastbound and westbound outer roads, or collector/distributor roads, in East St. Louis. The main line will not be part of the first phase.

J.S. Alberici Construction of St. Louis has been awarded the $15.8 million contract for the first phase, due to be completed by Dec. 15.

Six other contracts will follow, totaling $56 million when completed in four or five years.

Anyone who has driven the Poplar Street complex in the past year can clearly understand the need to repair this facility," Klohr said.

Just as the Massman Construction Co. can receive a bonus by completing the King Bridge tasks before the deadline (June 15), Alberici can receive $2,000 a day extra (to a maximum of $60,000) for finishing the first phase of the Poplar Bridge project early.

Klohr said Alberici will be penalized $2,000 a day if it misses the deadline.

The first phase will include widening one-lane sections of the outer roadways to two lanes. This will add capacity to the bridge complex and will ease the effect of closing the main route for repairs, Klohr said. The main line is scheduled to be closed for two years beginning in the spring of 1990.

The first phase will also involve resurfacing the outer roads and renovating the retaining walls (parapets) on the sides of the roads. A total of 12,000 feet of retaining walls will be replaced throughout the Poplar Street Bridge complex in the first and second phases, according to Bill Ulivi of IDOT.

The new parapet is designed to keep cars from going out of control and off the road when they strike the wall, Klohr said. The two-foot emergency walkway that is part of the existing retaining walls is unsafe and will be eliminated, he said.

Eliminating the emergency walkway will allow a slightly wider roadway, Klohr said.

IDOT's Roger Watson told reporters that Alberici won't be allowed to close any lanes from 6 a.m. and 3 to 6 p.m. until the King Bridge opens.

The King span is expected to handle 15,000 vehicles a day. The rehabilitated bridge will have four lanes, twice as many as were open in recent years. Traffic safety officers have been used at the end of the Eads and McKinley bridges and will be used when the King Bridge reopens.

A special highway advisory radio system will begin operating soon, Klohr said.

The effect of the King closure last April was less than expected. IDOT predicted delays of up to an hour, but the delays have been only 10 to 15 minutes because of the number of people who have used alternate routes or who switched to buses, car and van pools, Klohr said. "We cut our losses through that," he said.

The Eads Bridge has been made one-way from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m. to accommodate more vehicles, and that arrangement will continue.

IDOT officials wanted to make the King Bridge one-way but it was not feasible because of the street configuration on the St. Louis side, Klohr said.

The Poplar Street Bridge was opened in 1967. Traffic volume on the bridge "has surprised us from day one," Klohr said.

Because of improvements in technology, the new bridge deck is expected to last 30 years, he said. The original deck had a 20-year life.

Newborns to get T-shirts

Nurses will present T-shirts proclaiming "I'm a Born Non-smoker" to babies born at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Wood River Township Hospital during the week of Feb. 13-17.

Parents will receive pencils noting, "It's a boy" or "It's a girl," instead of cigars. Information about lung disease will also be included.

The package is part of the American Lung Association of Illinois' celebration of Smoke-Free Family Week.

A spokesman said, "It is hoped that the promotion will not only lead to the babies being non-smokers for life, but also point out the dangers of 'second-hand smoke,' especially to children."

Admission to SIUE will be tougher starting in 1990

EDWARDSVILLE — High school students will have to meet stricter requirements if they want to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville starting in 1990, President Earl Lazerson said.

SIUE is the first Illinois university to follow new admissions standards proposed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in 1985, Lazerson said.

Before they can begin college work, students must complete an additional year of classes in English, mathematics and science and two years of foreign language, music or art.

There is no such requirement now.

Students now meeting the requirements will have to take extra courses to help them meet those requirements before they can begin formal college work, university officials said.

The new requirements are important to a student's chance to receive a bachelor's degree, he said.

"The new requirements will not ensure success, but their absence will lead to failure," Lazerson said.

The requirements for students who plan to enter SIUE in 1990:

- Four years of English.
- Three years of math.
- Three years of science.
- Three years of social studies.
- Two years of foreign language, music or art.

Heart-healthy news to be presented at six meetings

A new American Heart Association study found that heart disease deaths have been reduced by 24 percent in the last decade. Researchers attribute this to both better treatment and healthier living habits.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center, urging an even greater drop in the next 10 years, is sponsoring a Heart Healthy News You Can Use series of free sessions given by health care professionals.

"You see a lot of stories in the newspaper and on television about heart disease. Some of the stories are frightening," said Donna Fisher, director of Education Resources at SEMC. "Heart Healthy News You Can Use was designed to allow health care professionals to present accurate information on heart disease and to answer questions."

The Heart Healthy sessions are:

On Tuesday, Feb. 21, two sessions, both in the Wellness Center, at 2103 Iowa St. From 7:15 p.m. to 8:15 p.m., Dr. K. Patel, a cardiologist, will speak on Hypertension.

From 8:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., Ellen Fredrick, a registered dietitian from SEMC, will speak on Preventing Heart Disease with Diet.

On Wednesday, Feb. 22, there will also be two sessions in the Wellness Center. From 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., Laura Tungett, R.N., exercise specialist from the Outpatient Cardiac Rehab Program at SEMC, will speak on Taking Control of Your Life: The Risk Factors of Heart Disease.

Robert Turck, M.S.W., a social worker at SEMC, will then explain Stress Management Through Lifestyle Change, from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m.

On Thursday, Feb. 23, cardiologist Lawrence Harmon, M.D., will speak on New Treatments for Heart Disease, from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. This session will also take place in the Wellness Center.

The final session will take place Friday, Feb. 24, from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., in PASCAL Hall, on the ground floor of the medical center. It will be a special Ask the Pharmacist session, featuring registered pharmacist Glen Kohnz.

All sessions are free; however, space is limited. The Public Relations Department can be called at 798-3822 to reserve a space.

'89 yearbook defies death

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

MADISON — On its deathbed since the beginning of this month, the 1988-89 Madison High School yearbook got a breath of life Wednesday night.

During a special school board meeting on the yearbook, called at parental requests, the board voted to allow the yearbook to be published this year, a motion which bypassed the book's publication this school year. The deadline has been extended to Friday, March 3.

"Whatever needs to be done, we are behind you 100 percent," Vera Browley told the board. Her daughter, Sharon, is the senior class president.

Last weekend, Browley launched a yearbook drive which upped sales from 52 to 92. She presented two more sales to the board during the meeting.

"I told them if it (yearbook) didn't fly this time, maybe it wouldn't fly next year," Browley said.

The board later voted to name Browley a co-chairman of the yearbook.

To keep figures for the cost of the yearbook in the black, $3,600 is needed. At the start of the meeting, Principal Bob Melchic said the 94 sales at $10 each had netted $940 and $2,660 in ad sales had been collected. Melchic said he thought an additional $800 in ad sales could safely be counted on.

"There are ads out there to get, provided the students go out and approach the proper people and do what is necessary to get them," Melchic said. "The feedback I'm getting from businesses is that they want to see the students come in. They don't want to see me or get letters asking for ads."

John Hamm III, board president, said the board had not yet been approached for an ad sale. The group purchases one every year, he said.

Melchic said he had not been asked for a book. Melchic also said he was glad to see some parental involvement and that parents' help was always welcome. He would not, however, allow the parents to do it alone.

"If the parents want to assist or to drive the kids around, great," Melchic said. "I want to see students putting on their green and white and going out and asking for ads."

Only 51 of 90 seniors kept photographs for appointments with Hollywood Andrews Studio. The company has since agreed to arrange for more Saturday sessions for the stragglers, Melchic said.

"They said they will do anything they can to cooperate with us," Melchic said.

Two seniors, Rachel Huey and Tammy Goss, were able to increase both yearbook and ad sales following the meeting, being the first students to approach the board members.

Diabetes class set

Free classes on Take Charge of Your Diabetes are being offered by St. Elizabeth Medical Center each month. The next will be Wednesday, Feb. 15, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. To register, the number is 798-3355.

Increase request is one reason Tim Easley, of the Illinois Public Action Council, said he is not overly optimistic yet.

"One of my concerns is that, if the recommendation is accepted, there is nothing stopping IP from filing again and making us go through the whole 'dog and pony show' again."

Easley said he and others were studying the recommendation closely to see if the hearing officer has used "fair-right logic" in arriving at his conclusions. He said that if the logic is flawed, IP can get the ICC ruling, if it follows the hearing officer's recommendation, overruled in court.

August 1985 the commission granted an increase, that gave Illinois Power 99.5 percent of what it asked for, but added a cap on the cost of Clinton of $2.7 billion," he said. "But it gave nothing as a basis for the cap and, when IP took it to court, the cap was thrown out. The cap amounted to nothing but a public relations move."

Easley said he worries that

Hamm III, who seconded Grzyzwy's labors, was surprised by the ordinance and its implications but was prepared to vote for it, he said.

"It was a surprise to me that it was drawn up," Hamm said. "I was not aware that this activity was being done."

But despite its unexpected introduction, Hamm said he wanted to vote for the ordinance. "I thought it was explained quite well and it was justified to me," Hamm said. "It was explained we needed an ordinance that would place to help an investigation. I'm all for it."

Hamm acted to postpone further consideration last Tuesday of a substance containing cocaine.

Stacy R. Tatum, 26, of the Bissell Street Apartments reported to the Venice police Tuesday and was transferred to the Madison County Jail, where she remained Friday in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Regina Winston, 31, of the Bissell Street Apartments was served the warrant in Edwards-ing to the accident report.

Two events were taking place Friday night at the high school. A country-western show sponsored by the Granite City Elks Lodge was booked in the auditorium and a sectional wrestling tournament was held in Memorial Gymnasium, Superintendent of Schools Gib Walmsley said.

"That's a darn dangerous spot," Walmsley said Saturday, noting that a pedestrian cross-over walk had been proposed at that location.

It is believed Mrs. Mejaski and her son had attended the country-western show and were walking home when the accident occurred, police said.

Class on road rules Wednesday

Secretary of State Jim Edgar, in cooperation with the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens, is offering a Rules of the Road course for all citizens in the Granite City area Wednesday.

The purpose of the course is to help applicants pass the Illinois Drivers License renewal examination. It updates drivers on the current rules of the "road," explains the vision and the driving ability examinations, and prepares applicants for the general written and road sign examination.

The course will be held at the Granite City Township Building, 2000 Delmar Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 15, from 9 to 11 a.m.

The course is free to everyone, any age, who wishes to attend, said Clyde Meyers, 676-3381.

The recommendation is nothing but an attempt to get the process over with and put the issue to rest.

"That would amount to the commission punting," Earle said. "We're deep in Illinois Power territory, it's third and inch to go and there is just no reason to punt."

Beaman said any rate cut, or increase less than requested, to deal with emergencies, such as having to buy electricity from another company during peak use.

Currently, he said, the bonds are barely at investment level and if they should become "junk bonds," ordinance will be unwilling to deal with them.

That, Beaman said, combined with the drop in stock prices and other factors, would make the company appear financially unhealthy and scare away investors.

night as a way of ending arguing at the meeting, he said.

In spite of the delay, Bellcoff seemed confident that the ordinance, in some form, will pass.

"The ordinance will pass at the next council meeting," Bellcoff predicted. "I have no problem with that."

Sweeping in nature, the ordinance specifically outlines behavior that is not permissible and lists anatomical areas that are a law violation to have "less than completely and opaquely covered."

Violation of the ordinance and conviction can cost a business its operating license, and a person can be fined from $50 to $500 for each offense.

Her bond was set at $50,000 and she posted $5,000 cash and was released.

Gregory Lowery, 34, of East St. Louis, who was found at a Venice location at the time of the raid, was booked on a felony charge of possession of a firearm by a felon. He remained in custody Friday in the Madison County Jail.

•IP rates

"No matter what happens, we're not going to go bankrupt," Frank Beaman, an IP spokesman, said last week. "But without the increase we're not going to be in a position to provide the kind of service we have in the past."

Beaman said part of the reason IP has financial problems now is the length and uncertainty connected with the ICC proceedings on this increase. Since the hearings began more than a year ago, Beaman said, the company's stock price has dropped and its bond rating has been downgraded.

The hearing commissioner's recommendation is not binding on the ICC.

"The commission is expected to vote March 31," Diane Harrell, an ICC staff spokesman, said.

"On April 1, Illinois Power can file again and repeat the entire 11-month process."

Peterson said IP will wait for the ICC's final ruling before considering any further actions.

Grzyzwy said he was on the police force at the time and that two taverns had planned to bring in "go-go dancers."

"Maeras passed it then to stop this activity," Grzyzwy said.

But Police Chief Charles Brick said he checked but could find no such ordinance.

"The only thing I could find was an age-old ordinance referring to dance halls, dating from the 1940s," Brick said. "It prohibits nude or semi-nude dancing on the dance floor by patrons."

Bellcoff said he wants to ban "topless or semi-topless dancing and exhibitions."

"Space Time" is an annual SIUE program celebrating space exploration and related programs. The event will be held from Feb. 19 to 24 and will feature programs designed for college and high school students as well as the general public.

Mark Lenard, the actor who plays Ambassador Sarek, Spock's father, in the television and movie series "Star Trek," will speak Tuesday, Feb. 21, at 7 p.m. in Meridian Hall. In addition, to his role as Sarek, Lenard also played a Klingon commander in the first "Star Trek" motion picture and a Romulan commander in a television episode of "Star Trek."

Lenard will talk about his experiences with "Star Trek" films and episodes, as well as the field of space exploration in general.

Also appearing as part of "Space Time 1989" will be Ian Pryke, the Washington Bureau chief of the European Space Agency.

In his presentation Wednesday, Feb. 22, Pryke will discuss the current projects of the European Space Agency as well as its long-term program which will guide the agency into the 21st century.

'Lincoln' to visit 3 local schools

The Madison County Arts Council will sponsor visits by R. Frederick Klein, an actor portraying Abraham Lincoln, to several schools in Madison County during the week of Feb. 13.

Klein, 40, is a resident of Springfield and since 1980, has worked full-time as Mr. Lincoln, bringing the wit and wisdom of Illinois' most famous statesman to thousands of people in over 30 states.

Klein presents the 16th president of the United States as a public speaker come to address a particular audience. "The material used will vary from audience to audience," Klein said, "but in each portrayal I try to leave behind a penetrating, applicable expression of Lincoln's thoughts, values and feelings."

"My approach to the role differs from traditional drama in that I seek to engage my audience directly," Klein said. "This approach can create an illusion that one is actually listening to Lincoln speaking to an 1860s crowd."

Klein is part of the Madison County Arts Council's Performing Artists Series for the 1988-89 school year. The Performing Artists Series is an educational program that presents professional artists-related events in schools, libraries and other locations from October through April each year.

For more information about the Madison County Arts Council and its programs, the council can be called at 696-8014. Klein will perform Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 9 a.m. at Maryville Elementary School in Granite City.

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, he will be at Gateway Christian Academy and Mitchell Elementary School, both in Granite City.

Belleville West gets quick start; whips Warriors

By Gary King
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — During the course of the season, the Warriors and Belleville West Maroons have headed in different directions. The Maroons have become a team that's hard to handle, while the Warriors have become a team in need of a helping hand.

Warrior coach Don Deterding called out every defense and held up every finger he had trying to stop the Maroon Machine on Friday, but the Warriors (0-8 in Southwestern Conference play, 2-15 overall) still came up empty-handed, 80-58.

If the game had been a prize fight, it would've been ruled a first-quarter TKO. No sooner did the Maroons (3-5, 8-11) hit the hardwood than they hit the Warrior defense with a rapid flurry of layups and short jumpers to take a 13-3 lead less than four minutes into the contest.

The Warriors temporarily regained their bearings, but for most of the game their punches seemed to have all the impact of a toothless puppy bite on the Maroons.

"We took the floor very lackadaisically tonight," said Deterding after his team had lost its fifth in a row and 12th in its last 14 outings. "We didn't play any defense. They beat us down the floor. They did what they wanted to do, and we seemed glad to allow them to do it. This was undoubtedly our worst ballgame of the year."

For what it's worth, the defeat was not without some silver lining. In this case, the bright spot was the season debut of senior center Shawn Tripp. Tripp saw some action on the varsity level last year, but has been sidelined this season by academic and personal setbacks.

It took Tripp only two seconds to score his first basket of the season in the first quarter. After checking into the lineup, Tripp caught an inbound pass from the point man Mike Wilkinson and tipped it in neatly off the backboard.

Tripp went on to score 10 points and pull down four rebounds in just two quarters of playing time.

"I've said all along — and there will obviously never be any way I can prove this — that we would've won 15 to 18 ballgames this year with Tripp in the lineup," Deterding said. "Maybe I'm just crying in my towel. I don't know. He looked so good this fall that I honestly thought before the season started that he might end up being the best center I had ever coached. Tonight was his first night back, and he's very obviously out of shape. You just can't judge him on what he did tonight. For one thing, he was on defense because we were running some defenses that we hadn't practiced this week."

The near-perfect balance of the Maroon offense threw a monkey wrench at the Warriors that they hardly knew how to deal with. Not only did all five Belleville West starters land in double figures, it was actually the team's first one box score from the next. Forward Mike Hall led West with 17 points, while Dan Riegler and Kurt Muskopf contributed 15 points each. Forward Tad Smith added 14 for the Maroons.

"We threw everything we had at them," Deterding said. "We threw the box-and-one, the zone, the Five, the 2-3, the Monster, they just beat us up."

The Warriors were led by guard Mike Wilkinson's 15 points and 10 points each from Tripp and Jeff Scheffer. Forwards Kory Burton and Jeff Smith and guard Matt Cook were held to six points each, while John VanBuskirk added five points.

With Granite City already trailing by 19 points early in the third period, the Maroons went on a 12-0 run that took just over a minute and a half and put the Warriors in a 30-point hole.

Thanks to some late scoring from Smith, Granite City nearly cut its deficit in half of 20 points.

The Warriors will try turn the tide next weekend when they travel to Edwardsville (Friday) and East St. Louis (Saturday). Deterding realizes that morale is getting hard to sustain.

"We're sort of taking the floor right now not really expecting to win, but not expecting to win, either," Deterding said.

NOTES: Collinsville beat Belleville East 64-37 in two overtimes Friday behind 38 points from Tim Pace. The Kahoks (7-1 in SWC play) maintained a one-game lead over East St. Louis, an 81-59 winner at Altam.

THE CHAMPS: The Lady Warriors let everyone know just where they ranked in the Granite City Class AA Regional moments after the conclusion of Wednesday's 54-46 win over East St. Louis in the title game. Granite City plays Jerseyville in the Highland Sectional tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Cavaness hurting on eve of sectional

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

The Lady Warriors appear to have at least one advantage over Jerseyville in tomorrow's sectional semifinal game at Highland High School. At least they hope to have that advantage.

With 6-2 Jennifer Cavaness, Granite City (10-12) will have a size advantage over the Lady Panthers (25-1), who don't have a starter taller than 5-8. But Cavaness' status was in question at the end of the week because of a pulled muscle in her leg.

"Her dad took her to a sports doctor and she's on crutches," Lady Warrior coach John Hutchings said of Cavaness, who scored 27 points and had 17 rebounds in Wednesday's 54-46 win over East St. Louis in the Granite City Regional title game. "They're going to do ultrasound treatments on her all weekend and we'll see how she is."

Hutchings said Cavaness was just going to watch practice on Friday and Saturday. Karen Sykes or Andria Cline will start if Cavaness can't play Monday. But Hutchings has a feeling the team's meal ticket will answer the bell.

"She was hurting Wednesday at the start of the fourth quarter (and had four fouls), but she told me not to take her out," he said. "She's tough and she wants to play."

Cavaness is averaging 21.5 points, 13 rebounds, 3.5 steals and 3.0 blocked shots. With Kim Pawlak still battling a sprained ankle, the Lady Warriors will be heading into their first sectional with something less than all guns firing.

"If this doctor can help Jennifer, maybe I'll send Kim to him," Hutchings said.

Jerseyville, meanwhile, has parlayed good shooting and tenacious defense into a tremendous season. The Lady Panthers were unbeaten until dropping their regular-season finale to Highland, 50-41 last week. That cost them the Mississippi Valley Conference crown. They are averaging 64 points per game and allow only 35. The Lady Warriors, by comparison, are averaging 55 points per game and allow 51.

"Everybody is talking about a Jerseyville-Highland rematch and that was even before either team had won its regional," said Jerseyville coach Denise Kelly, in her seventh season. "This team doesn't look past anybody. I don't know much about Granite City, but I know they have the big girl who is very good."

Jerseyville has won its regional the past four years, but has never won a sectional game.

"We are more comfortable this year," Kelly said. "But we're certainly not overconfident."

The Lady Panthers are paced by 5-7 senior Lisa Kanallakon, who is averaging 15 points. She had 26 in a 64-36 win over Cull Memorial in the Wood River Regional title game on Wednesday.

"Lisa will score wherever we can get her the ball," said Kelly.

"We like to run with the ball when we can get rebounds, which can be a problem at times with our size."

Other players for the Lady Panthers include 5-7 junior Kelly Sebastian, the sister of former Jerseyville star Lori Sebastian, now at SIUE. Sebastian is second in scoring with an 8.4 average. Tammy Williams, a 5-8 senior, is the team's center. She averages 7.1 points but only 3.0 rebounds. Kanallakon is Jerseyville's leading rebounder, but she only averages 4.8 per game.

"I was talking to the Belleville East coach (Paul James), and he said that we can give Jerseyville a game," Hutchings said. "Of course, that's with Jennifer healthy. We have to slow down their fast break by rebounding. And Michelle Bequette has really helped us there. She and (Priscilla) Meyenburg have come up with some big rebounds to help Jennifer."

Pritchett, Davis advance to semis

GRANITE CITY — Two of the Warriors' three wrestlers in this weekend's sectional advanced to semifinal competition in preliminary and quarterfinal action Friday at Memorial Gymnasium.

Seniors Bryan Pritchett (119 pounds) and Brent Davis (125) survived Friday's action and were to compete in Saturday's semifinals beginning at noon. But junior 112-pounder Todd Hutchinson was eliminated during Friday's session.

Hutchinson, who finished at 31-12 with 13 pins, was beaten 9-3 by Civic Memorial's Ken Howell in the preliminary rounds. Hutchinson then had to hope Howell kept on winning. But Hutchinson was finished when Springfield's Andy Gardner beat Howell 10-0 in the quarterfinals.

Pritchett (40-5, 24 pins) had little trouble in his first two matches. He pinned Carbonado's Toby Waller in 48 seconds in the preliminary round, then topped Civic Memorial's Don Hamilton 16-2 in the quarterfinals.

Pritchett (40-5, 24 pins) set a new school record with his 142nd career win, a 19-10 decision over Wood River's Chuck Smith in the preliminary round, because he took first in last week's regional. The match was stopped with 48 seconds left and Davis holding an 18-0 lead when Davis was shaken up, but he resumed and held on. Davis was to face Springfield's Mike Brest in the semifinals.

Complete results of Saturday's action will appear in Wednesday's Journal.
